

There are few firms with Zelle's breadth and depth of experience in insurance law. Our attorneys have been on the cutting-edge of insurance litigation for decades, including first- and third-party property and liability coverage, reinsurance, and subrogation, and extending across a wide range of industries and natural and man-made catastrophes.

A recent article in Insurance Law360 titled, "Insurance Cases of the Decade" listed the four cases that had the biggest impact in the world of insurance and insurance coverage law over the last 10 years. Zelle attorneys represented major clients at the forefront of three of those monumental cases - the World Trade Center cases, Hurricane Katrina matters and asbestos litigation.